

I write to express my opposition to the lifting of the cross-ownership ban. This action to allow further media consolidation will not serve the public interest. In a democracy it is imperative that people have access to a plethora of unbiased news sources.